

Read John 6:58-71

1. One of the keys to truly following Jesus is recognizing your deep need for him. How do you continually posture yourself in this way without self-loathing?
2. Another key to truly following Jesus is placing ultimate authority on his words and commands. What commands do you see the church culture in the US disregarding? Why do you think we are able to do that?
3. If obeying the words of Jesus is critical to following Jesus, how do we protect and guard our time in the word?
4. One of the final points of the sermon was "what we believe about Jesus must dictate how we actually follow Jesus". If we believe that he is a good "add-on" then we will live like that. If we believe that he alone holds the keys to eternal life, then we will live like that. How do we continually posture ourselves to be completely dependent on Jesus?
