

Discussion Questions:

How do Jesus' 'I Am' statements throughout John's Gospel shape our understanding of His identity and purpose? How might these declarations impact our personal relationship with Him?

In what ways does Jesus' statement 'I am the bread of life' challenge our notions of what truly satisfies us? How can we apply this to our daily lives and pursuits?

How does Jesus' claim to be 'the light of the world' relate to His promise to lead us out of eternal darkness? What might this mean for those struggling with spiritual or emotional darkness?

Jesus declares Himself as 'the door for the sheep' and 'the good shepherd'. How do these metaphors illustrate His role in our lives and our relationship with Him?

Reflecting on Jesus' statement 'I am the resurrection and the life', how does this impact our view of death, loss, and eternal hope?

In what ways does Jesus' claim to be 'the way, the truth, and the life' challenge or comfort us in our spiritual journey? How might this exclusive claim be received in today's pluralistic society?

How does Jesus' metaphor of being 'the true vine' and us being the branches inform our understanding of spiritual growth and fruitfulness? What does it mean to 'abide' in Him?

Jesus says He spoke these things so that His joy might be in us and our joy might be full. How does this challenge our perception of joy and its source in our lives?

The sermon mentions the discovery of insulin as a life-saving treatment. How might this parallel our spiritual need for Jesus and His life-giving power?

How can we, as individuals and as a church, better respond to Jesus' invitation to 'come to Him' for rest? What practical steps can we take to prioritize prayer and seeking comfort in His words?